

Little steaks journey

The digestion story

This is a story of a food traveling through the digestive system
and his story.

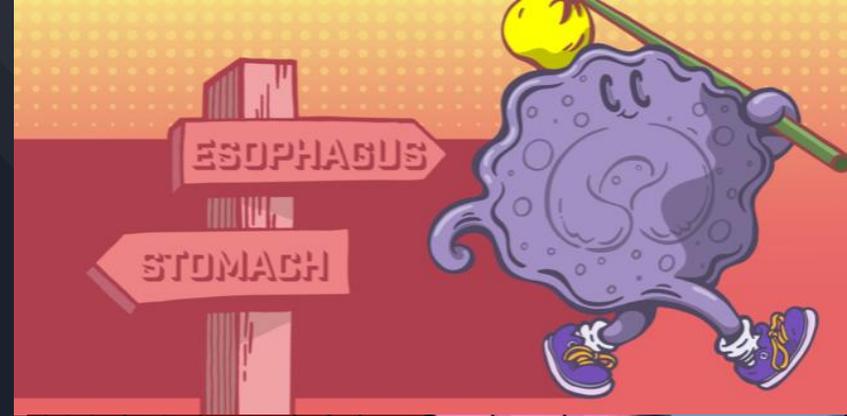

I was put on a plate and saw many people around me they were talking and laughing I was confused of what was going on.

Then I got put in to somebody's MOUTH!!!!!!

After that I was walking to the esophagus I yelled hello, then someone said yes, I said can you tell me where I am supposed to go. Yes he said go to the sign that says esophagus. I went there and saw the esophagus, in the esophagus of the person. It looked very weird it was like a big water slide. I had a lot of fun

Then I went in The stomach there was a bunch of disgusting Liquid there. I was waiting in that liquid and then
A bunch of acid called enzymes rained on me. It was ticklish after that I became smaller.

Now I was being showered by pancreatic juices. It was very ticklish but now I started changing form and becoming something like a ball.

Now I was in the small intestine. Something called villi was pushing me they were trying to absorb nutrients from me and make it into energy. I was happy I was doing a big part in the digestive system. Then juice came and made me very soft and I was breaking down then the villi made me into tiny droplets.

I went in the large intestine and saw bacteria in it but that's ok there good guys they protect us. I saw other foods their to they were talking to me and I talked to them to. I asked how long we are going to be here and a bread said 12 hours. I went to sleep soon then when I woke up something else happened.

Now I was in the rectum it was weird
there and I think I knew what comes next.

Now I saw the outside world again but I was in a pool. Wait not a pool a TOILET!!!!!! I was going to get flushed the toilet. I saw the little flush thing that flushes the toilet and the guy pressed it. Noooooooo I was being flushed down the toilet. I went in circles and circles an circles, until I went down. It was kind of fun but I was put in the sewer. I saw all my friends In the sewer to then when we went to the sewer lake we made our new home there
