combed special haircut
patient scissors mirror

Please Wait

Today was the first day of school, and my friend Jody had a new haircut. It looked so cool.

When I got home, I asked my mom for a haircut, and I told her exactly how I wanted it. I asked her, very politely, "Could you please do it today?"

Sadly, she was busy. She told me that it takes a long time to cut hair. "First, you have to take a bath so that your hair is wet. Then, you have to brush it out really well," she said. My face dropped as my mom continued. "Finally, when you cut, you have to use special scissors, and cut very gently so that everything is even..." Her voice trailed off.

"You need to be very careful and get it just right. If you make a mistake, you can't glue the hair back on," she said, laughing. I didn't think it was very funny.

"Maybe I can cut it for you on the weekend," she told me.

I went back to my room and looked at my hair in the mirror. It was way too long, and I didn't want to go back to school looking like this.

I thought about what Mom had told me. She said to take a bath first, but I already took one this morning. Then she said to brush my hair, so I gave it a quick brush. Mom had said to use special scissors. I got my school scissors out of my desk. If they could cut paper, they could cut hair!

I looked in the mirror again and paused. Mom's comment that "you can't glue it back on again" made me worry a little. I decided to cut off just a little hair.

Snip. Snip. Snip. I watched some hair float to the floor. I looked in the mirror, and one side was shorter than the other.

Snip. Snip. Snip. I looked again, but now the other side was shorter!

Snip. Snip. Snip. It was still wrong.

Snip. Snip. Snip. I kept trying to fix things, but the more I cut, the more lopsided and crooked my hair became. I started to cry.

Mom walked in. She looked at my new haircut. She shook her head and didn't say anything. I don't like it when she doesn't say anything.

"Are you mad because it's ugly?" I asked.

"No, I'm disappointed because you were not patient. I am disappointed that you did not wait for me," she replied.

I went into the bathroom and took a bath. My mom brushed my hair out, then clipped gently with her special scissors. It wasn't perfect, but it was much better. My mom smiled as she combed my hair one last time.

"All good things come to those who wait," she said.

Second-Grade Substitute

Josh waved to his mom, sat down, sighed, and looked out the window. He checked his watch. He would be at school in about ten minutes. His stomach was full of butterflies.

The bus stopped, and five more students got on. Maddox sat down next to him and gave him a nervous look and a half-smile.

"Are you ready?" he asked him.

Josh shrugged his shoulders. Their teacher, Mrs. Whitman, was gone for the day, and they were having a substitute.

Normally, they wouldn't mind this, but their teacher had told them that Mr. Stafford would be filling in for her. The boys had never had Mr. Stafford before, but the older kids had told them all about him.

Brendan said Mr. Stafford had tattoos all over and the biggest muscles he had ever seen! Max said that he had piercing blue eyes, a thick dark beard, big teeth and a huge scar on his face. They both said that Mr. Stafford was the biggest, meanest and scariest teacher they had ever had!

The bus came to a stop and Josh looked up. They had arrived at the school. He took a deep breath and walked off the bus.

Josh and Maddox headed up the second-grade hallway. They were walking a little more slowly than normal. Josh noticed that Mrs. Whitman wasn't standing at the classroom door like she usually was. He sighed again, put his head down and walked into the classroom.

He looked around the room for their substitute teacher. He didn't see the big, scary man anywhere. Puzzled, he said to Maddox, "I don't see him. Do you?"

Maddox pointed, and Josh's eyes followed the direction of his finger. He spotted their substitute in the reading area with several students.

Maddox and Josh instantly felt better and smiled. Mr. Stafford didn't have huge muscles or scars. He didn't have tattoos all over him, and his eyes and teeth were normal. He didn't look scary at all.

He was an older man, wearing grey pants, a plaid shirt, a dark green cardigan sweater and glasses. He had a warm smile and gentle laugh.

The kids all began to clap as he finished reading a story. "Second grade, I hope you enjoyed that book. Are you ready to start our day together? I'm looking forward to it!" he told them.

Josh smiled. Suddenly, he was really looking forward to it too.

apartment elevator salami

Ernest and the Elevator

Liam has a dog named Ernest. He is a very good dog.

Ernest rarely barks. He never bites. He's very well-behaved, except that he loves chewing Liam's shoes.

Every day after school, Liam takes Ernest for a walk.

"Time for a walk, Ernest," Liam calls. Ernest wags his tail and runs over to Liam. Liam clips Ernest's leash to his collar.

Liam and Ernest live in an apartment building. Ernest does not like to ride in the elevator. Every day, Liam tries to get Ernest to go into the elevator. And every day, Ernest refuses to go inside.

Ernest whines, cries and pulls on the leash. He's too scared to ride the elevator.

Most of the time, Liam and Ernest take the stairs. Not today! Today, Liam decides to help Ernest conquer his fear.

First, Liam tries to lure Ernest into the elevator with his favorite dog toy. He takes Ernest's stuffed monkey out of his doggie bed and puts it on the elevator floor.

"Come on, Ernest!" he exclaims, holding the elevator door open. "Come get your toy."

Ernest looks at the stuffed monkey. He looks at the elevator. Then he lies down and makes a soft whining noise. He won't get in the elevator.

Liam has another idea. He finds some salami in the fridge and puts it on the floor of the elevator.

"Come get the salami, Ernest," he says.

Ernest looks at the salami. He looks at the elevator. He inches a little bit forward, then stops. Ernest still won't get in the elevator.

Liam is about to give up. Will nothing help Ernest overcome his fear?

Then, Liam has another idea. He takes off one of his shoes and tosses it inside the elevator.

"Ernest, go get the shoe!" Before Liam can even finish his sentence, Ernest jumps inside the elevator. He starts chewing on Liam's shoe.

They get to the bottom floor. "You are so brave, Ernest," Liam says. Ernest won't let go of the shoe, but Liam doesn't mind. He takes Ernest for a walk in one shoe and one sock.

ground snowman disappointed lying rolling determined

The Snowman Problem

Kyle and Emma were playing in the snow. It was the kind of snow that was perfect for making snowballs. They talked about building a fort or having a snowball fight.

"How about we make a snowman?" Kyle asked Emma. "Let's make the biggest snowman ever!"

"Great idea!" Emma said.

The two children started working on their snowman. They each started with a small pile of snow that they rolled into a ball. Next, they rolled their snowballs on the ground, making them bigger and bigger.

"Do you think my snowball is big enough?" Emma asked.

"Not yet!" Kyle replied. "Keep rolling!"

Emma and Kyle kept rolling their snowballs through the snow. Soon, the snowballs were so heavy that they could barely push them. They decided to start making a smaller snowball to use for the snowman's head.

Once the last snowball was ready, it was time to put the snowman together.

"Help me lift this big snowball on top of the other one," Emma said to Kyle.

The children stood on each side of the huge snowball and tried as hard as they could to lift it. It was way too heavy for them to pick up! They could not even lift it one inch off the ground.

"Now what?" Emma sighed. "Should we start again and just make a small snowman?"

Kyle and Emma stared at the three balls of snow on the ground. They felt disappointed, but Kyle was determined to build a big snowman.

"I have an idea," Kyle replied. "Help me push this snowball."

Emma and Kyle pushed one of the big snowballs so it was right beside the other one. Next, Kyle rolled the smallest snowball over and added it to the line of snowballs.

"What are you doing?" Emma asked. "Why do you have all the snowballs in a row?"

"I'm making a snowman," Kyle smiled. "But he's lying down!"

Emma laughed. "I know the perfect things to add to our snowman!"

She ran into the house. A few minutes later, she came out with sunglasses, a big, floppy hat, and a glass of lemonade.

"He's lying on the beach!" she exclaimed, as she carefully put the hat and sunglasses in place on the smallest snowball.

Kyle laughed and asked his sister, "Should we put some sunscreen on him so he doesn't get sunburned?"

perfectly sketch quiet
beautiful night deer

The Night Artist

Macy tiptoed through the cabin, as quiet as a mouse. She did not want to wake anyone up. She silently got dressed, picked up her sketch pad and slipped outside.

It was cooler than she expected. And quieter. And darker. It was hard to see even the trees, which just looked like shadows in front of the cabin. Macy crept along the porch to the bench and sat down quietly.

Everything seemed a bit spooky, and Macy felt a little nervous. She wasn't used to being outside at night, alone in the dark. Macy thought about going back inside, but she decided not to. Her dad had told her that many wild animals only come out at night, and she wanted to see them. She wanted to see the animals and sketch them.

Macy waited in the quiet of the night. She could hear the wind softly rustling the leaves in the trees. An owl hooted in the distance. After a while, she could see better. Up in the sky, the full Moon shone down on her, and she could see thousands of stars. The owl hooted again. Macy liked the owl sound, and she started to relax more. She started to sketch the Moon.

After a little while, Macy heard a rustling in the bushes. She could feel the excitement rising in her, as well as a little fear. She reminded herself to be calm and not run if it was a bear.

It wasn't a bear. A beautiful doe stepped out of shadows and into the light of the full Moon. The doe was only about 20 feet away. Macy gasped. She had never been this close to a wild animal before.

"You're so beautiful," she whispered.

The deer spun its head around and stared at Macy. The deer stood perfectly still. Macy sat perfectly still. The deer stared at Macy. Macy stared at the deer. Finally, the deer decided that Macy was not dangerous and started to eat the grass.

Macy very carefully and slowly picked up her pad and started to sketch the deer. She drew the deer's long neck and legs. She drew the spots on the doe's tan and white fur. She drew the deer's dark eyes and big ears.

A couple of times, the deer looked up at Macy. Each time, Macy stopped drawing and sat perfectly still. She did not want to scare the deer away. After a few seconds, the deer always went back to eating grass.

Just as Macy was finishing her sketch, the doe silently slipped away into the bushes.

Macy picked up her pad and went back inside the cabin. Everyone else was still sleeping. Macy knew she should go to sleep, but she was too excited. She looked at her sketch. She felt very special. She had truly connected with nature.

mailbox envelope Post Office
mailman sidewalk policeman

Mikey Mails It

"Mikey, I have some letters for you to mail," Mom called.

"Coming, Mom!" Mikey put down his book and went downstairs.

"Make sure these all go inside the mailbox," Mom reminded him. Their street had a blue mailbox on the corner just two blocks away.

"I will, Mom." He headed down the street. It was a little windy. When he got to Evan's driveway, he saw his friend bouncing a basketball. Mikey put down the mail and started playing with his friend.

Suddenly three envelopes flew by, caught by the wind.

"Yikes!" Mikey and Evan scrambled to catch the letters. Mikey counted to make sure he had them all. Then he ran down to the mailbox and mailed them before he forgot again.

The next day, Mom came into Mikey's bedroom.

"Would you take this to Mrs. Smith's house?" she asked, holding up a big yellow envelope. "It's the money from the bake sale. I need you to go straight there and make sure you give it to Mrs. Smith."

Mikey felt grown-up as he marched down the sidewalk with the envelope under his arm.

At the end of the block, his friend Emily came around the corner. She had a bouncy black puppy on a leash.

"We have a new dog!" Emily exclaimed. The cute little puppy jumped up against Mikey's legs.

"Wow!" Mikey giggled as the furry little dog nudged him with its nose. "I think he likes me."

"Yes, he does," Emily agreed. "Do you want to walk him?"

"Sure! Mikey was about to take the leash, when he saw the mailbox up ahead. "Oh, wait. First, I have to mail this for my mom."

Mikey ran up to the mailbox, opened it, and tossed the yellow envelope inside.

Just as he heard the envelope drop down inside, he remembered that the yellow envelope wasn't mail. It was the money from the bake sale. He had thrown the money in the mailbox!

Mikey tried to see into the mailbox, but it was completely dark.

"What's the matter?" Emily ran up, the puppy barking at the excitement.

He told her his mistake, and her eyes opened wide.

"Maybe you can reach it," Emily suggested. Emily held the mailbox door open while Mikey stood on his tiptoes and tried to reach into the mailbox as far as his arm would go.

"What's going on, kids?"

Mikey and Emily both turned around. Two kids and an excited puppy stared up at a very tall policeman. The policeman looked very serious. Mikey couldn't help it. He started to cry.

"I mailed the money," he sobbed. "It was an accident!"

After Mikey had sniffled out the whole story, the officer walked Mikey home. Mom was surprised to see a policeman at the door.

Once Mom called the Post Office, things turned out well. A mailman came, found the yellow envelope and gave it back to Mikey's mom.

"Next time," Mikey promised, "I'll finish my job before I stop to play!"
